IAMSLIC Business Meetings

Basic Parliamentary Procedures

1. Parliamentary procedure exists to facilitate the transaction of business and to promote cooperation and harmony.
2. All members have equal rights, privileges, and obligations. The majority has the right to decide. The minority has rights which must be protected.
3. A quorum must be present for the group to act.
4. Full and free discussion of every motion considered is a basic right.
5. Only one question at a time can be considered at any given time.
6. Members have the right to know at all times what the immediately pending question is, and to have it restated before a vote is taken.
7. No member can speak until recognized by the chair.
8. No one can speak a second time on the same question as long as another wants to speak a first time.
9. The chair should be strictly impartial.

Motions or Resolutions

Handling a motion:

1. A member makes a motion. (Lengthy motions or resolutions should be written out and given to the President before the business meeting. Motions presented at the 1st business meeting are normally not voted on until the 2nd business meeting.)
2. Another member seconds the motion.
3. The chair states the question on the motion.

Considering a motion:

1. The members debate the motion.
2. A member who has been given the floor by the chair may introduce an amendment to the main motion. If seconded, the amendment becomes the question under consideration until it is put to vote and resolved, after which debate returns to the original, main motion.
3. The chair restates the motion and puts the question to a vote:

“All in Favour of the motion please say aye.”

“Those opposed, please say nay.”

4. The chair announces the result of a vote (adopted or lost).

Other Parliamentary Processes

1. A motion may be delayed by referring to committee for additional work or tabled to allow for another action to happen before the motion is discussed further.
2. A vote to amend, refer to committee or table would happen before returning to vote on the initial motion.
3. The Parliamentarian will advise the President on other processes and procedures.
